The Daily Tribune.

Mormon News from Salt Lake City.

We have received our package of the Deseret News, from June 8th to Aug. 24. The last three numbers we think must be printed upon paper made from straw and refuse newspapers. Rags have been very scarce in the valley of Salt Lake, and paper to print upon has failed.

WHITE RAPPINGS.

"By a discourse delivered at the Tabernacle by J. M. Grant, we see that belief in the spirit-rapping theory finds a congenial soul among the Mormons.

Mr. Grant is a firm believer, but considers it the work of Lucifer, and says:

I am of opinion that Lucifer and his associates can show as many miracles the people desire to see; they can show as many as were exhibited in Egypt in the days of king Pharaoh. I believe Lucifer has just as much power to make lies now as ever he had—he has just as much power to develop his power in making a serpent to oppose a Moses as ever. Has he lost his power during the last two, three, or four thousand years? We do not believe that he has. If there, he possesses the same power he once did, why is he not able in this dispensation to make manifestations corresponding to those in previous ones.

* * * * * * *

Let us then confine our remarks to this dispensation when the Prophet Joseph Smith was visited by an holy angel clad in robes of light, who authorised him to sound the trump of the gospel of peace, and receive the sacred records from the earth and the Urim and Thummim, and who laid hands upon him the Holy Ghost, and authorised him to baptize for the remission of sins, and organize the kingdom of God on the earth. What do we see at this time? We see the manifestations of the powers of Satan immediately after the revelations of the angel to Joseph. For instance, there were spirit mediums in Kirtland when the church was first organized there by P. Pratt and others; but when Joseph went with the priesthood the Devil had to leave, for he had learned the power of Lucifer, and Joseph organized the church, established the priesthood, and set everything right.

I might go on with a long routine of manifestations of the power of God and of the power of the Devil; but you who have come from the old country, and some of the first Elders that went over there, President Young, Kimball, Hyde and others, recollect manifestations of the spirits of the Devil in that land. They attacked those brethren by hundreds and by thousands, and the spirits were actually visible. If you could call up be Willard Snow, and converse with him, I have no doubt that he would tell you he was attacked with them, and they overcame his body.

WHAT WAS ADAM MADE FROM?

President Brigham Young, in a discourse in the Tabernacle, has started a new theory as to Adam. He says:

You believe Adam was made from the dust of the earth. That I do not believe, though it is supposed that it is so written in the Bible; but it is not, to my understanding. You can write that information to the States if you please, that I have publicly declared that I do not believe that portion of the Bible as the Christian world do. I never did, and I never want to. What is the reason I do not? Because I have come to understanding, and banished from my mind all the baby stories my mother taught me when I was a child.

BAPTISMAL REGENERATION.

President Young evidently belongs to the big-church party, for he says in the same discourse to the brethren:

I have heard of some of you cursing and swearing, even some of the elders of Israel. I would not baptized seven times were I in your place I would not stop teasing some good elder to baptize me again and again, until I could think my sins forgiven. I would not live over another night, until I was baptized enough to satisfy me that my sins were forgiven; then go and be confirmed as you were when you first embraced the religion of Jesus. This is my counsel.

VALUE OF KNOWLEDGE.

President Young thus estimates the value of knowledge.

When I returned to Kirtland, a brother said to me, "Brother Brigham, what have you gained by this journey?" I replied, just what we went for; but I would not exchange the knowledge I have received this season for the whole of Geauga county, for property and mines are not to be compared to the value of this knowledge.

DOMESTIC INSTITUTIONS.

It is evident the Mormons have readily caught at the Douglas doctrine of non-interference with the domestic institutions of the Territories.—Gen. D. H. Wells, in an address delivered in the Tabernacle, said:

And time will show in regard to our moral and social institutions, which Congress are so often trying to legislate about. They are welcome to all their moral and social rules and regulations, and they shall try to legislate about, though we have just about as much right to as they have about ours. The argument is opportune. I could not wish for better illustration for the subject of discussion than the already muddy and beclouded brain which some of the Congress exemplified upon this very subject. One might suppose that the spirit at least of the 3000 clergymen upon the Nebraska and Kansas bill, had found its way into their minds and left its impression with them. What other item of religious faith they will next seek to interfere with, is left for time to determine; but I should expect that woman would be prohibited from marrying, or Shakerism abolished.

Excuse me, my friends, for alluding to such a subject, upon an occasion like this, but the absurdity of undertaking to legislate upon the morality of our social relations and religious institutions, imperceptibly led me to make a comment upon it.

It is an indication of a righteous feeling among them, there may be some small hope of their yet, but it "smacks rather much of the sulphur to be genuine," as the parrot said when the devil taught him prayers. I hope you will accept of my apology, and I will refrain.

FOURTH OF JULY AT SALT LAKE CITY.

The celebration of the glorious 4th was after the old fashioned way.

At sunrise a national salute by the artillery, with their brass field pieces. At the same moment the Nauvoo bell rang out its merry and wakening peals; small arms began rattling; the trumpet and bugle joined in the general salutation—while the various city bands, under their gallant Colonel, in their happiest mood, in the midst of waving banners, seemed to vie with themselves which should do best or loudest upon the patriotic and exciting occasion

Col. Geo. A. Smith was the orator of the day; and from the tenor of his oration, there is no doubt the Pierce party will be called upon to carry out the non-interference doctrine with regard to the infamous domestic institution of poligamy, in Utah. The writer said:

One individual in particular, during the present session of Congress, has become so enlightened as to say in the House: "You have no business with the domestic relations of Utah," and consequently, I think the principle is making headway.

The following were two of the toasts given on the occasion:

The Mormons—They know how to keep the eleventh commandment, viz—Mind your own business

The Ladies of the Union—May they obey the first commandment, until their posterity shall cry, make room.

Learned Elephant.—"That's a werry knowing hanimal of yours," said a cockney gentleman to the keeper of an elephant.

"Very," was the cool rejoinder.

"He performs strange tricks and hantics, does he?" inquired the cockney, eyeing the animal through the glass.

"Surprising!" retorted the keeper, "we've learnt him to put money in that box you see away up there. Try him with a dollar."

The cockney handed the elephant a dollar, and sure enough, he took it in his trunk, and placed it in a box high up out of reach.

"Well, that's werry hextraordinary—hastonishin' truly! Now let's see him take it out and hand it back."

"We never learnt him that," retorted the keeper with roguish leer, and then turned to stir up the monkeys and punch the hyenas.—Spirit of the Times.

Fourth District—JAMES KNOX.
Fifth District—ARCHIBALD WILLIAMS.
Seventh District—RICHARD YATES.

THE MASS MEETING TO-DAY.

We trust there is no need of reminding our citizens of the fact that the Independent Mass Convention takes place this day, at half past two o'clock, in the South Market Hall, and that all who favor a union of all the true Anti-Nebraska voters, in a common cause against Douglas and the Rum and Slavery party, are urged to attend.

We especially call upon the Mechanics and other laboring men—the bone and sinew of the city—to be present and assist in giving the Convention a good direction. Let old party differences be given up and forgotten. It will be much more honorable and glorious to concentrate our power against the Nebraska Democracy, and aid in rescuing the country from their hands.

Ninety delegates are to be appointed to attend the Aurora Convention, and also a large number to represent this county in the State Convention, to be held at Springfield, on the 4th day of October.

Turn out, friends! turn out! The crisis in public affairs is upon you, and you must act!

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

A Mass Convention of all the citizens of the 2d Congressional District who are opposed to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and to the further extension and consolidation of the slave power, and in favor of the overthrow of the existing State and National administrations which are pledged to the support of slavery, will be held on the 20th day of September 1854, at 10 A. M., at Aurora, for the nomination of a candidate for Congress, and for the organization of a party which shall put the government upon a republican tack, and secure to non-slaveholders throughout the Union their just and constitutional weight and influence in the Councils of the Nation.

STATE MASS CONVENTION.

A Convention of all the citizens of the State of Illinois who are opposed to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and to the further extension and consolidation of the Slave power, and in favor of the overthrow of the existing State and National administrations which are pledged to the support of slavery, will be held on the 4th day of October, A. D. 1854, at 12 o'clock M., at Springfield, for the organization of a party which shall put the government upon a republican tack, and secure to non-slaveholders throughout the Union their just and constitutional right and influence in the Councils of the Nation.

[Pa]pers throughout the State please copy.

COOK COUNTY WHIG CONVENTION.

The Whigs of Cook County are requested to meet at South Market Hall, on the 16th inst., at 2 o'clock, P. M., to appoint fifteen delegates to represent them in the Whig Congressional Convention to be held at Aurora, on the 20th inst., and transact such other business as may come before the Convention.

DEMOCRACY IN PEORIA DISTRICT.

The unterrified Democracy of the Peoria District have nominated Gov. McMurtry for Congress, and have passed resolutions endorsing the Nebraska Infamy. So it goes! Every day brings fresh evidence that the democratic party are irretrievably committed to the support of this measure, and are the pro-slavery party of the country. And yet the Democratic Press and the Galena Jeffersonian fill their columns, day after day, with eulogistic lectures on the great democratic party—its purity, its virtue, its incorruptable fidelity to Liberty! Can they not see, do they not see that the "great Democratic party" has become a cheat, and a humbug, and that every day that they now remain within its ranks they are guilty of sustaining and upholding that cheat and humbug, and of holding back the car of human Progress and Freedom?

DOUGLAS AT JOLIET.

The Times of yesterday morning had a letter from Joliet, giving a one sided and garbled account of the meeting there on the 8th inst., which Mr. Douglas and Mr. Codding addressed. We happen to know that it is a one-sided and garbled account, as we have received the true account of a meeting from gentlemen who were present, and whose veracity is beyond question. Mr. Douglas was not, by any means, triumphantly sustained by the people who heard him. His speech was the same sophistical, unfair and false argument, which he made at Indianapolis and Morris, and the people saw very clearly through it, and despised the man who endeavored to blind them with such flimsy falsehoods. The speech of Mr. Codding, who replied to Douglas, was an able, sound and convincing argument, and the way it was received showed that the people were with him. It was the intention of the friends of freedom to pass resolutions, at the close of the meeting, expressive of its sense upon the questions which had been discussed, but at the close of Mr. Codding's speech, the Douglas men begged, with the greatest importunity and earnestness, that no resolutions should be offered, knowing that nothing but the strongest kind of anti-Nebraska resolutions could be passed. They knew that if the voice of the people was suffered to be heard, the same rebuke would be given to Douglas as he received at Morris, and they begged off so piteously that the anti-Nebraska men, very wrongly in our opinion, permitted the resolutions to be suppressed. There is no faith to be kept with such men as these Douglas Toadies, and our Joliet friends should have known that they would not fail to report, in the absence of any resolutions, that the meeting had "triumphantly sustained" Douglas. However, what they say does not amount to much. The people are not in the habit of believing anything which the office-holders and seekers say, and the people who left the meeting with their hearts full of indignation and contempt for the Traitor, will not have the feeling at all mitigated by hearing of the falsehood which their opponents have set in motion. We trust that the people will learn from this, however, not to trust the politicians to make a fair representation of their opinions, but speak for themselves, and that not in a whisper, but in a voice of thunder.

Something Rich—Senator Douglas a Professor of Religion, and in the habit of Praying in his family.

A story has been going the rounds that Douglas recently wrote a letter, in which he used the following language concerning Mr. Yates, a candidate for Congress in Illinois:

"Beat the damned little pup, cost what it will, and it will learn him to leave my business alone."

The Cleveland Plain Dealer of Monday, says:

"Douglas never wrote such a line. Senator Douglas does not swear. He never was heard to use profane language. He is a professor of religion, prays in his family, and is a model man morally (!!) All his personal acquaintances can bear testimony to this."

The Plaindealer also states that Douglas is not a slaveholder. If he is not, he must recently have sold three hundred negroes. A few weeks since the Washington Union published a long account of a big dinner given to Douglas' negroes, at which there was fun alive.

NO FELLOWSHIP BETWEEN CATHOLICISM AND REPUBLICANISM.

As much as we, in common with every true American, despise John Mitchell, the Editor of the Citizen, for his base pro-slavery proclivities, and his treachery to Freedom as therein manifested, we are free to acknowledge that he speaks nobly and well on some other matters, and will do good service in his paper, if he will be but consistent in his present course, in the cause of Americanizing his brethren here, and of dissipating the absurd and dangerous notions which they so generally entertain relative to keeping up their national organization here. Fas est ab hoste doceri, "It is lawful to learn even from an enemy," and we have found some truths in a recent article in the Citizen, which, indeed, are not new to us, but which are presented there in a forcible and striking manner, which adds new force to them. Mr. Mitchell has been writing several very caustic letters to the Right Rev. John Hughes, and it is the postscript to one of these letters to which we refer. It appears that several persons, who are interested in the matter, have written to Mr. Mitchell, complaining that in those letters he has been distracting the Irish mind, dividing the Irish strength, injuring the Irish cause, and the like. Upon this Mr. Mitchell takes issue as follows:

There is no such thing, or, at least, ought to be no such thing, as an "Irish mind," an "Irish strength," or an "Irish cause" in the United States of America. Possibly, there may a necessity to concentrate and organize the mind, the strength, and the cause of adopted citizens from all countries in a strictly defensive league against the ungenerous and inhospitable aggressions of Native Americanism. A great misfortune, if it come to pass, and that to both the parties. But as to the Irish in America, the more division and distraction the better; that is, the more fully they are absorbed into existing American parties (always exceding the Know Nothings) and lost among American citizens, the better.

To some persons, indeed, it is profitable to keep the Irish in America a body isolated and distinct—and to perpetuate the anamoly, absurdity, and enormity called the "Irish Vote." Those persons to whom this is profitable, are, first, the grog-shop politicians, who, as I am informed, try to keep together each of them a clique or gang of "Irish" voters by unmeaning national nonsense and patriotic palaver,—and so are in a condition to bargain with candidates for office. Secondly, it is profitable to your Grace; you are thus furnished with a kind of Irish organization, which, for the interests of "the Church," you can and do turn into a Catholic organization,—and wield the same as a politico-ecclesiastical power to influence American politics—not of course to serve any object of personal ambition (in a Catholic prelate that is "impossible"), but for the advantage of the Church of God. Mysterious are the ways of Providence! See how a Church of God may be benefitted by corner grog-shops! Thirdly, it is profitable to the ringleaders of Native Americanism, who are enabled, by pointing to this partnership between Church and grog-shop, rowdyism, ragout and religion, to alarm and irritate decent Americans, make them hate both Irishmen and Catholics, and so give up their political consciences and votes into the keeping of them, the Native ringleaders, who are, I presume, the very worst men in America; some of whom are Englishmen or Orange Irishmen in the English interest; and who are at all events playing the English game here.

Therefore I would willingly distract and divide the "Irish mind" of American citizens: I would introduce "disunion" among them, making some of them Democrats, some Whigs, some Hards, some Softs, some Silver-Greys, and some, if possible, even Free Soilers,—anything in short but Know Nothings or Abolitionists. The "Irish Strength"—the "Irish Vote," I would break up and abolish utterly,—inasmuch that never more should prudent Yankee pipe-layer know where he may lay a pipe to draw the Irish vote to his platform;—never, never more should priest or bishop undertake (in the interest of the Church of God) to lead his sheep with pastoral crozier into the pleasant pastures of the Hards, or by the still waters of Old Fogyism. Not as Irishmen, not as Catholics, but as bona fide American citizens I would have them go about their business and exercise their common franchise. Even in death I would separate them. If they go on sleeping together four deep in that Calvary Cemetery, the simultaneous uprising of so many Irishmen will be enough to arouse Native American spirit at the last Day; and the trump of the Resurrection will be a signal for the cry of "Wide-Awake!"

That is excellent, but it would have a stronger claim upon our attention did we not remember certain articles from the pen of John Mitchell which appeared in the Citizen not many weeks ago, strongly recommending the formation of strictly Irish military companies. That might not indeed, be an union of Irish mind, but it certainly would be an union of Irish bayonets. However, to err is human, and the Citizen has not only erred but has had the courage to acknowledge, tacitly, that it has been in error. We hope it will be more consistent, hereafter.

Mr. Mitchell goes on, in this postscript, to charge Bishop Hughes, and his brother prelates in Ireland, with being opposed to the success of Republicanism in Ireland, with treachery to the cause of liberty there, and with being on the side of England against Republicanism.—"Not that he loves England more, but that he loves Republicanism less." He thus stirs up his pure mind by way of remembrance:

I admit that we were wrong (notwithstanding the profession of some priests and the sincere cooperation of one or two,) wrong in relying upon their help or even neutrality. The history of '98 and of the Act of Union might have taught us better. We might have remembered how averse were the Irish hierarchy to the movement of the United Irishmen, and for the same reasons which influence them to-day—that is, fear of a Republic and "French principles," or Jacobinism—the thing which your Grace calls Red Republicanism—now. We might have remembered "the circumstances of the clergy excommunicating all Defenders, and even refusing the sacrament to some of the poor fellows in articulo mortis, which, to a Catholic, is a very serious affair."—(See Tone's Journals, vol. ii, p. 51.) We might have bethought ourselves how "the priest of Saintfield preached against the United Irishmen, and exhorted his people not to join such clubs, on which he was immediately rebuked in the chapel by one of his own congregation (Tone, vol. i, p. 173);—and how the priests who did join in the movement incurred the censure of their bishops; and after the revolt failed, and the "Union" was in course of preparation, how "the Catholic bishops were generally deceived into the most disgusting subservience" (Barrington. Rise and Fall, p. 418, New York ed.) how "Dr. Troy was consecrated a decided Unionist, and was directed to send pastoral letters to his colleagues to promote it" (ib. p. 412)—how the Catholic clergy of Kilkenny and Dr. Lanigan, their bishops, sent to the Marquis Cornwallis a most fulsome address, praying for the fatal Union of their country with England (ib. p. 445). It is true that the Catholic clergy were in this matter deceived and deluded by the promises of English Ministers. They were to have been made true legal Bishops, instead of contraband titular ones: but the reflection of Sir Jonah Barrington on the transaction is profoundly true, and is one which I trust my countrymen will never again forget—"Most of them have since sojourned to the grave simple titulars; and left a double lesson to the world—that Priests and Government can rely but little on each other, and that the people should in general be very skepitcal in relying upon either." (p. 422.

Yet, after all this, when the British Famine, that consummation and logical consequence of the Union, came upon us, many thought the Catholic clergy could not this time have the heart to oppose themselves to the natural and necessary resistance of a people in the jaws of death; it was believed that the "Repeal Agitation" had not been without some fruit of national feeling: and that the sight of their own flocks melting off the earth in unheard-of agonies, under a famine created by England, must soften their hearts. Ah! we had not duly estimated their devotion to the "Church of God." The most of the Irish revolutionists of that day were republicans, as before; the movement, if successful, was quite sure to end in a republic; and what was to become then of the Church of God. British famine could kill the body indeed, but French principles would slay the soul. So the Priests once more behaved like true and pious Priests, and took their stand with the Famine and the English.

Mitchell goes on to mention several additional facts which show beyond question that the Catholic church, as such, is leagued with despotism, and that she stops at no wickedness or tyranny or bloodshed to "crush out" republicanism and closes his article with the following "settlers:"

I mean to say, then, Bishop, that your Grace, and the whole hierarchy of your church, and the priesthood of it too, in so far as the hierarchy can control it, is an enemy to Irishmen, to the rights, the manhood, and the very lives of Irishmen.—I charge your profession (order, or what you choose to call it) with having more than once abandoned, in their extremest need, that far too credulous and devoted people who so long stood by their persecuted clergy when that very British power hunted them like wild beasts, and when the same price was set upon a priest's head and upon a wolf's. I accuse them of having twice, in '98, for fear of "French principles," in '48, for fear of Red Republicanism, delivered over the Catholic people of Ireland to be spoiled and trampled by their foreign enemy, as no kindred or tongue, or nation, in the world was ever spoiled or trampled before.

Therefore, no terms are to be kept with such [illegible] and treacherous [illegible]. If the freedom of Ireland is ever to be won, it must be in spite of the Priests; and for my part I begin to be convinced that the Irish in Ireland will never begin to advance one step towards liberty until they shall have first revolted utterly against the authority of their clergy, and shall have been well cursed by Pope and Bishop with crozier, bell, book, and candle. Nay more, that the Irish here will be good and loyal citizens of this Republic in the exact proportion that they cut themselves off, not from religion but from that political corporation which you call the Church of God.

Will our cotemporary, the Chicago Tablet publish this letter or a portion of it? It will help the cause of the Tablet very considerably.

FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT—ROW IN THE WIGWAM—TWO CANDIDATES IN THE FIELD—FAGGOTS AND FIRE THREATENED.

The Nebraska and Anti-Nebraska Democrats had a warm time in their Congressional Convention at Rockford on Wednesday, 13th. Gentlemen who were present as spectators represent it as a little of the most furious and uproarious conventions they ever saw or heard of,—feuds between the old parties being amiable, when compared with this.

It appears that the postmasters, office-seekers and expectants of the District had secured their own appointment as delegates in sufficient numbers to control the convention, and they accordingly determined to make the Antics swallow the Nebraska pill, without even sugar-coating it.—Doctor Molony, a fire-eating Free Soil, Wilmot Proviso Democratic member of Congress from this District, two years ago, led the Nebraska party, and in one of his peculiar highfalutin speeches canonized the compromise measures of 1850 in general, and the author of the Nebraska swindle in particular. St. Stephen, the martyr, was a small pattern of a man, according to the Doctor's argument, when compared with Sucker Stephen,—better and more familiarly known as "Little Dug."

The Doctor was replied to by E. P. Ferry, Post Master at Waukegan, and Cass elector in this district in 1848. He said the Anti-Nebraska Democrats were not to be bullied into the support of the Nebraska fraud, directly or indirectly, and would oppose it and all candidates nominated under it, as a test of party faith. He gave a rich description of Dr. Molony's speeches in 1850, when the Doctor said he would rather his arm should wither, than that it should cast a ballot for any but a Wilmot Proviso and anti-Fugitive Slave Law Democrat.

Doctor Miller, of Belvidere, who was one of the most talented Democrats in the last Legislature, followed Mr. Ferry, on the same side, and gave the Nebraskaites "fits;" but all would not do,—orders had been issued that the Nebraska swindle must be sustained, the postmasters and other office-holders and office-seekers had assembled to obey the mandate, and resolutions sustaining the Administration of President Pierce in all of its acts except the great Battle of Greytown, and glorifying Judge Douglas and his "Popular Sovereignty" humbug, were put through.

The chairman had barely time to announce the result, when the Antics, headed by Dr. Miller and Mr. Ferry, made a rush for the door, and left the convention. Then the Pierce and Douglas men had things their own way, and defiant threats were made against the bolters. An Irishman named Neill Donnelly, who headed the Nebraskaites from McHenry county, made a characteristic hot-house speech, in which the bolters were styled the "Shanghai party,"—a witticism that undoubtedly had its origin in Woodstock.

The Nebraska party, being left alone, proceeded to nominate a candidate for Congress, when our quondam citizen, Wm. M. Jackson, now of McHenry county, was selected. His merits were great, for, next to Molony, and Mr. Hoyne of this city, he was the most rabid Free Soiler in the State some four or five years ago. He has long been aspiring to the honor of being a candidate for Congress, and since "Little Dug" promised some weeks ago to take him under his wing, and canvass the first district for him, the matter has become so essential to the gratification of his ambition that a different result might have been attended with fatal consequences.

The Antics—thirty-six in all—after bolting from the convention, repaired to the Winnebago House and nominated E. P. Ferry, as their Democratic candidate.

Thus matters now stand, and probably will continue to stand till the election, when the Nebraska party will become defunct, and Ferry and his associate Antics can crow over its poor body, like victorious Shanghais.

"HEADS OFF."

Since Senator Douglas returned to this city, the guillotine of the Post Office Department has been unusually busy. All Postmasters whom the Senator suspects of anti-Nebraska heresies have their heads taken without further ceremony. The removal of Burdick at Elgin, and the appointment of Gen. Wilcox, was noticed several days ago. Yesterday the Times, Douglas' organ here, published the following:

We are authorized to publish the following note:

Post Office Department,
Appointment Office, Sept. 8, 1854.

Sir:—The Postmaster General has ordered the appointment of Frederick M. Mead, at Union, in the county of McHenry and State of Illinois, in place of C. D. Cannon, removed.

I have the honor to be,
Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
First Assistant Postmaster General.

Hon. Stephen A. Douglas, Chicago, Cook co., Ill.

We have seen similar notes, announcing the following additional removals and appointments:

James W. Marlow, Postmaster at Crystal Lake, McHenry county, in place of William Jackman, removed.

Marcus B. Burdick, Postmaster at Belden, McHenry county, in place of Daniel Wayne.

Samuel B. Groat, Postmaster at Huntley Grove, McHenry county, in place of B. Bunn, Jr.

Jacob W. Brewster, Mail Agent on the Chicago & Galena Railroad, in place of Jonathan Kimball removed.

The appointment of Marlow, at Crystal Lake, was asked for by nobody in the town; and the removal of Mr. Jackmon—one of the oldest citizens and a cripple—who had held the office about fifteen years, is opposed by nine out of every ten voters in the place. The man who takes his place has no experience, and it is doubtful whether he is competent to fulfill the duties of the office. But it is useless to complain. The present Pierce and Douglas Administration are determined to become notorious, and we think they will succeed.

A SENSIBLE ACT AT LAST.

We at length have the pleasure of recording one sensible action committed by our present wretched administration. It is the first of the kind, and must feel like a cat in a strange garrett. It is the following letter:

Department of the Interior,
August 25, 1854.

Sir:—In reply to yours of the 21st, requesting that the President will withdraw from sale or private entry the land within a belt of twelve miles on each side of the proposed Mobile and Girard Railroad, I have to state that the whole subject of the withdrawal of lands for railroad purposes has recently been fully examined and considered, and that it has been determined, with the approbation of the President, to bring into market, with as little delay as practicable, all lands heretofore withdrawn for such roads as have not been favorably acted upon by Congress, and to decline hereafter to withdraw lands for such purposes until the grant shall have been actually made.

I am, sir, very respectfully,
Your ob't servant.
R. McCLELAND, Secretary.

Hon. A. Iverson, Columbus, Ga.

This looks a little like reform in the land policy of the Cabinet. The recommendations of the President's annual message were so highly flattering to the railroad landjobbers, that at the last session of Congress they gathered into Washington with the modest expectation of absorbing all the available public lands from the British boundary to the Balize. The Kitchen Cabinet co-operated in their schemes. Many of them passed the Senate; but the fall of the Wisconsin bill in the House, under charges of bribery and corruption, broke the backbone of the conspiracy. The subsequent discovery of the alteration (made under the advice and consent of the clerk of the House) interlined in the text of the Minnesota bill after it had passed, stamped the monster for the rest of the session. The Cabinet itself, including the President, appear now to be convinced of the immeasurable and ruinous corruptions of their original policy. Hence this letter of Mr. McClelland. Will the Executive follow it up at the next session of Congress?

Correspondence of the Tribune.

DOUGLAS AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Ill., Sept. 14, 1854.

The Hon. Stephen A. Douglas appeared at Ottawa yesterday in his work of self-vindication, before the Sovereigns of Illinois. A company of some two thousand persons—men, women and boys—gathered into the Court House yard, some to see if there would be a fuss, others to catch a glimpse of the hero of so many battles, others to be assured if there was in fact, any resemblance between the Hon. Senator and the famous Legree. The vindication was evidently a matter of the least concern to the majority of that meeting. Even the Nebraskaites regarded the whole operation in the light of a whipping in of apostate brethren, who were yet hopeful, and a drubbing of the balance.

The prominent leaders of the Democracy were not visible on this occasion; or, if so, they were seen in the distant back ground. The platform was not graced by the Mayor or the Postmaster, or any public officer. A few VanBuren bolters were there, some ambitious boys who are making their acquaintance with Blackstone, and some old fogies who, for the credit of the performance, might as well not be named.

So far as the attempt at vindication was concerned, all intelligent men must admit that it was of the lowest and most contemptible kind of sophistry; and so far as argument, language and style are concerned, unworthy of Douglas. No honorable man, with respect for his audience, would willingly insult their intelligence with such a tirade of nonsense and vulgarity.

"You were an Abolitionist in '48, wan't you? You considered slavery a great moral evil, didn't you? You were opposed to Congress affording any protection to the system, wan't you? Then you were in favor of repealing the Missouri Compromise! Why are you then quarrelling with me?"

By like process he proved that the Whigs and Democrats had long been trying to do what he had done; and that the instructions of the Illinois Legislature in principle authorized the repeal.

He knew well, that in reply to his question,—"Why do you blame me?" they would have said, "For that mean ambition which, to insure your elevation, led you to disturb the peace of this nation—to tear open bleeding sores, and pour in liquid fire—to lick the feet of the Slavocracy—TO VIOLATE THE PLIGHTED FAITH AND COVENANT of this nation, and throw open its territory to slavery, insulting the free North, and disgracing us in the eyes of the whole civilized world by your ruffainly blackguardism."

However much the people were amused at the low wit of the speaker, at his violent assault upon Chicago, the Abolitionists and Wentworth, an indignant silence pervaded the assembly. Four voices once tried to raise a cheer: there was no response. Douglas, seeing the desperate state of affairs, "begged his friends to desist," as he could not be heard. This stroke of policy was well nigh too much; a suppressed titter ran through the mass, which nothing but the firm determination to keep silence restrained from the most boisterous mirth.

The closing part of the "Vindication" was devoted to the Know Nothings, upon whom he charged the mob violence he sustained in Chicago, "a city gone over into the ranks of 'black abolitionism' and 'Know Nothingism.'" This part of the vindication was illustrated by some new facts of history—such as the persecution of the Episcopalians by the English Puritans, who settled Virginia.

Douglas gains no advantage by such harranges. He only proves his utter destitution of honor. He betrays too easily his low associations and vulgar habits. He is too easily irritated about "that plantation and his negroes." "I am here sir, talking to white men, discussing principles, and I shall not permit you, to be putting personal and insulting questions to me," was his reply.

The people of La Salle county will for a long time to come, contrast the meeting of July which Clay addressed from that same stand, with this of yesterday. That was full of enthusiasm, and in the most tremendous cheering showed the settled determination of the lovers of freedom. A MAN was there, speaking manly sentiments.

This meeting was ominously silent, and Douglas—was there—talking. * * *

For the Chicago Tribune.

"VINDICATION" WITH A VENGEANCE.

Mr. Editor: Though no longer a resident of the "Garden City," I still rejoice in its welfare, but above all I am proud of the manly, independent, whole-souled spirit of its people, who have so recently "vindicated" themselves from a participation in the sin, the shame, the indelible infamy, which enshroud the character and burn luridly upon the brazen brow of the Traitor who misrepresents the people of the State of Illinois, and who sought a second time to cover his treason by outrageous insults to the people whom he had betrayed—a man who has done more perhaps than any other who ever attained a distinguished position, to sink the dignity of the State and National politics in the mire, and degrade the fair fame of the whole country. Never before was a bold bad man so scorched and withered by the breath of an indignant constituency. Let him rot in the infamy to which he has been so suddenly and deservedly consigned. His discomfiture was complete and irretrievable. If he did for a moment mean to compel the people of Chicago to bear a second attempt at "vindication," he evidently thought better of it, for the last flashes of the telegraph represent him as figuring with congenial spirits at Indianapolis.

At this distance, I am necessarily a day behind the fair in speaking of your recent signal demonstration; but I will, with your permission, recall a yet vivid reminiscence in the mind of the writer hereof, and which no doubt remains equally vivid in the minds of nineteen-twentieths of your citizens—at least of those who were citizens three years ago. They cannot have forgotten (for indeed it gave the sharpest sting to their late burning rebuke) that Senator Douglas—always foremost in traitorous designs against freedom—by a coup d'etat peculiar to his tortuous character, contrived effectually to misrepresent the public sentiment of Chicago on the Fugitive Slave Law abroad, in the face of every form of utterance by which that sentiment had been so emphatically expressed. The Press had spoken in unmistakeable tones—the people had given an indignant protest in mass meetings—the Common Council of the city had very properly, in a series of pungent resolutions, denounced the slave-catching law in appropriate terms; and yet, in the face of all this, giving the brazen lie to all this, this man Douglas, assisted by a few of his creatures, when the people had had their full say on the subject, arranged a picked meeting—he alone occupying the full time of the meeting—and late at night, when all honest men ought to have been in bed, just such resolutions were passed as he chose to have drafted—fully endorsing the Fugitive Slave Law. That speech and those resolutions were immediately trumpeted over the length and breadth of the land as the voice of the people of Chicago, and by multitudes were so regarded.

I will not stop here to indicate the causes, but subsequent events seemed to give a certain color to the falsehood. The morning after that long, heavy, lying speech, I was pained to notice that many persons had been strangely biologised by the wily demagogue. They were not convinced that they were wrong, but many feared that they were in danger of being unpatriotic. The result was that some of the hitherto brave exhibited a trembling of the limbs and palpitation of the heart; a portion of the press spoke in "bated breath;" the trading politicians were busy, as usual, in counseling "moderation," which meant craven meanness and imbecility.

There was one fiery, noble protest against all this, an utter extinction of all Douglas' sophistry—the speech of Mr. Larned—which was a complete antidote to the poison so far as it could be brought to counteract it. But Mr. Douglas was a great, distinguished, triumphant Senator, gloating over the success of his treason; Mr. Larned was young, unknown in national politics, and for these reasons his speech had not the weight to which it was entitled by its merits. Had that speech been delivered on the conclusion of Douglas' labored effort at misrepresentation, at a seasonable hour of the night, who supposes these lying resolutions would have had the ghost of a chance of being adopted? For one, I do not.

But a truce to unpleasant reminiscences. Chicago has nobly vindicated her fair fame. The traitor is laid low, and I, with a great multitude, "breathe deeper and freer." W. E. J.

Essex County, N. J. Sept. 11, 1854.

Would not go down.—A letter from Belleville says: "Our Convention went into a state of dissolution without making a nomination.—Nebraska and Douglas will not go down even in this democratic section of Egypt."

FREEDOM OF SPEECH.

One of the best articles we have seen upon the Douglas defeat in this city on the 1st inst. is the following from the St. Louis Intelligencer. Coming as it does, from that source, it carries with it peculiar strength and should forever shut the mouths of those two papers of our city, the Press and the Journal, who thought that the city had disgraced herself by "crushing out" the Traitor. Let every body read this article:

From the St. Louis Intelligencer.

Freedom of Speech.

No one can doubt the attachment of the American people to Freedom of speech. This attachment is so strong, that to avoid the least infraction of their cherished theory on the subject, whole communities will patiently submit, for years and years, to the most intolerable nuisance. The Sunday street preaching in New York, Pittsburgh, and other large cities is an evidence of this.

But, after all, liberty of speech may degenerate into license. Like many other things in nature, it has its bounds which it cannot transcend without injury, and without losing altogether its intrinsic character. No man in his sane senses, and inspired with the genius of Republican institutions, ever thought of construing our American principle in this respect into license to curse and brawl and stir up tumult on the highways, to defame private individuals, much less to insult a whole community, and endeavor to misrepresent its position to the public in matters of grave moment. Liberty of speech cannot be claimed for an orator and denied to his audience. What he has a right to affirm, they have a right to deny. They have a right, and, in certain circumstances, are bound to express their approbation or the reverse, of the sentiments uttered before them, and to which an attempt is made to make them parties. This being granted, and allowance made for the numbers and enthusiasm of large crowds, it must be evident that cases will occur in which the two conflicting liberties, that of the audience, and that of the orator, will have a struggle for it, and, if the will of the audience carries the day, and their reiterated expressions of disapprobation leave the orator no chance to proceed, it cannot be said that any liberty is impaired or any right invaded.—No man has a right to make an audience hear him against their will, and no man can complain that his liberty of speech is abridged, because one avenue of explanation is temporarily closed, whilst others remain open, through which it will always be in his power to set himself right before the public, if the public know enough about him to care whether he be right or wrong. Where this is not the case, it were better not to insist upon keeping himself before the public against the public's will, as the effort will be at once ridiculous and vain.

The case of the Douglas meeting in Chicago, is a case in point, and well illustrates the subject in hand. Why certain New York journals, which have themselves been very vehement in urging the immediate and entire suppression of the street preachers, should be so very severe in their indignant reprobation of the course pursued at the Chicago meeting, is for them to explain. There does seem to us an inconsistency in this, which shows that the views of all men upon this subject are not entirely clear, and that a little consideration and discussion of it at this time might serve a useful purpose for the future.

Douglas wanted to speak in Chicago, and it is assumed that he wanted to be heard. We say assumed, for if anything seems certain to us, it is that he could hardly have said anything there that would have been well received by the audience he was to address, or have altered in the least his position in regard to them. But he wanted to speak; to speak on a subject upon which nothing whatever new could be said;—a subject which had been discussed and re-discussed, in the Senate, in the clubs, in the barrooms, on every street and corner, and chiefly by the Press. It had been turned and returned, presented in every possible light; all sort of threshing machines of every capacity, had been down on it for months and beaten every particle of wheat out of this precious bundle which Democratic demagogues had so carefully tied up; Mr. Douglas could not hope to say anything new upon the matter; he came before a respectable community of men, his own constituents, who might reasonably be supposed to watch his peculiar measure with peculiar interest. Western men, for whom a matter affecting the future character of the West was one of near importance; men inhabiting a flourishing commercial emporium, where the ordinary means of information were at their command, and he began an address upon the most hackneyed subject of the day by telling his audience that they were dolts and asses;—by telling them that they knew nothing about the measure about which he had come to speak, and which they had taken upon themselves earnestly and perseveringly to condemn. If Mr. Douglas hoped to be heard by a community which he knew to be already warmly incensed against him for his conduct in regard to the very matter about which he was to speak,—this it must be admitted, was hardly the most prudential and conciliatory way in which to begin. Old Aristotle would have told Mr. Douglas that where there was such an entire lack on the orator's part of the arete and phronesis, he should have been doubly cautious to preserve the eunoia, set down as the third essential of success. If Mr. Douglas was met at the outset with an overpowering storm of groans and hisses, against which he could make no head, it is not,—we do him the justice to suppose—more than he calculated upon before he opened his mouth, not more, surely, than he framed his first sentence to bring out.

The fact is, if Douglas has rights, the people of Chicago have rights too. They have no right to prevent him from explaining himself, and this they have not done and cannot do. If he has any explanation to make, and makes it, it will surely reach them, every one. But neither has he a right to expect that they will allow him to address them in regard to the Nebraska Bill without expressing their pointed disapprobation of his conduct in that matter. They do not wish to help Mr. Douglas build up political capital for himself, and are naturally disinclined to have it go before the world that he had set all things right at home, and was henceforth a safe man for Democrats to swear by. The people of Chicago would perhaps have manifested their feeling as decidedly and more decorously by a profound silence at the meeting; but it should be remembered that this silence of his enemies would have given a complete victory to the few straggling Douglasites who would have strained their lungs in his support, and have given color to the report, that the speech was received with rapturous applause.

On the whole, we are not disposed to blame Chicago for her conduct at this meeting. Douglas had betrayed her; he came to ask her how she liked it. She has given him his answer loud enough. She did not whisper it, lest persons at a distance, seeing the confident air with which he approached her to put his question, and which he maintained to the last, should believe those who would represent it other than it was. Not to let Mr. Douglas speak on that occasion was a mercy. He did not want to speak. Every one knows that Mr. Douglas had nothing to say to Chicago, but what he had said before, and what she was not pleased to hear.

KNOW NOTHING VICTORY.

The Municipal Election of Alton, which took place on Tuesday, was a complete Know Nothing Victory. The Courier says:

Yesterday was one of the quietest days, for an election day, that we ever saw. The election was hotly contested, and resulted in a complete Know Nothing victory. The opposition was routed in "horse, foot and dragoons," and our citizens will wake up this morning realizing for the first time, the certainty that the Know Nothings have met in the Culvert.

We have said the day was an orderly one.—Not an intoxicated man could be found on the streets, and at an early hour in the day, several of the groceries were shut up, and in all, we believe, care was taken to prevent drunkenness.

The election resulted in the election of O. M. Adams, Mayor; Henry A. Ores, Marshall; Henry S. Baker, City Attorney; S. Pierson, Treasurer.

The "Mast."—It is an extraordinary fact, that though the dry character of the season has cut off the late crops, there is a most astonishing mast. The oak trees are loaded with acorns and some of them we are told will yield ten bushels. These acorns, we are informed by those who ought to know, that, for the purpose of fattening hogs they are nearly equal to corn—particularly is this the case with the acorns from the white oak. Where our farmers live in the neighborhood of forests, they will be able to make nearly their usual quantity of pork, especially if they have sufficient corn to feed their hogs a few weeks.

Mast fed pork is not, however, in as high esteem as that which is corn fed; but a good deal of the former will be brought to market the coming fall.—Springfield Journal.

Travel.—The cholera having disappeared, and other things being propitious, the tide of travel begins to flow again with increased volume. Thousands will visit this part of the country in search of new homes, and escaping from their parched and thirsty sections, will rejoice to see something green once more. Let them come, hundreds of thousands would not be crowded.—Galena Adv.

BY THE LATEST MAILS.

THE MAINE ELECTION.

Portland, Sept. 11, 1854.

The fusion ticket for Representative is elected in this city.

Seven towns, for Congress, in the First District, including Portland and the Democratic towns of Scarboro, Cape Elizabeth, &c., give Wood, Fusionist, 2,400 majority, one thousand of which is given by the towns of Saco and Biddeford. There can be no doubt of his election.

In the Second District, Perry, Fusionist, is ahead. Bethel, which at the last election gave Mayall, Democrat, 221 majority, now gives Perry ninety majority.

The Fusionists Senators are probably elected in York and Cumberland counties.

For Representatives, there is not much change thus far.

North Yarmouth has overcome the Democratic majority in Scarboro', and elects a Fusionist Representative. In Gorham, the Democrats gain a Representative. In Westbrook, the Whig Representative is elected. In Waterville, Kennebec county, Reed, Whig, had 82; Parris, Dem., 104; Cary, Wild Cat, 36; Morrill, Fusionist, 364; Hanscomb, Know Nothing, was elected Representative, receiving 371 votes to 213 for More, Democrat.

VOTE FOR GOVERNOR.

	Morrill.	Reed.	Parris.	Cary.
Portland	1,724	498	787	41
Bangor	1,274	319	585	5

Morrill is the Fusionist and Maine Law candidate, and appears to have been supported by the Know Nothings.

The vote in Portland for Representative to Congress was for Wood, Whig or Fusionist, 2,041; Wells, Democrat, 953.

The returns from all parts of the State indicate the election of Morrill by the people for Governor. He will certainly largely lead all other candidates.

VOTE FOR GOVERNOR.

	Morrill.	Reed.	Parris.	Scattering.
Bath	936	144	147	—
Gardiner	523	—	—	631
Frankfort	431	40	101	—
Belfast	383	121	197	—
Calais	343	63	147	—

These are indications of the vote all over the State. Cary gets but a very few votes, except in a few towns in York county, and his vote will not probably exceed 2,000 in the State. Wood and Perry (Fusionists) are elected in the First and Second Districts. Knowlton (Fusion) is elected over Farley (Whig) and Dickerson (Democrat) in the Third District. In Penobscot District, Washburn (Whig) is elected. In the Sixth District there is but little doubt of the election of Milliken, (Fusion,) who leads the other candidates largely in the returns received.

For the Legislature the indications are that the regular Democrats will be in a decided minority. For the Senate, so far the votes do not indicate the election of a single Democrat. In the House the returns, as to the Representatives, are not full.

The Know Nothings have elected Representatives in Bath, Hallowell, Bristol, Ellsworth, Calais, Frankfort and other places. It is stated they generally threw their votes for Morrill and for Wood.

In York county, twenty towns gave Reed 783; Parris, 3,560; Morrill, 3,319; Carey, 216.

In Cumberland county, seventeen towns gave Reed 581; Parris, 1,840; Morrill, 3,319; Cary, 271.

Perry's majority in the Second District will be very large.

The Legislature without doubt is anti-Nebraska by a decided majority. Further returns make it doubtful if any of the Senators are elected in York county, though one on the Know Nothing ticket may be elected.

The opinion seems to be general that Morrill is elected by the people.

Wood's majority in the First District is not over 2,000.

The Cholera at Columbia, Pa.

Philadelphia, Monday, Sept. 11, 1854.

Dr. Boddin Spencer, and Dr. Thomas C. Bunting, have gone to Columbia from this city, to afford aid to the sick from cholera.

Among the victims are Dr. R. E. Cochran, a whig member of the Legislature; Edward A. Howard, proprietor of the Green Tree Hotel; Francis Bradley, Notary Public, and a number of ladies.

Second Dispatch—10 P. M.

Passengers from Columbia represent the ravages of the disease as awful. Up to 4 o'clock this afternoon sixty-seven deaths had taken place and seventeen new cases are reported to-day. Just as the cars were leaving seventeen patients were brought in from the Santee Furnace.

THE HOOSIER DEMONSTRATION—SPEECH OF CAMERON AND OLD SIMEON.

The Cincinnati Commercial sent a special reporter to attend the great Nebraska and Whiskey Demonstration at Indianapolis lately, and his letters are very amusing. We make the following extracts:

Our "dirty dog" Senator was then called out. Mr. Brown announced that he had gone over to the house for a minute; but that if the people desired it, he would bring "the old brass gun" in a twinkling. But "the old brass gun" was found to be spiked and utterly unfit for use. I may state just here that it is rumored that the "Brass Gun" and the "Little Giant" played "bluff" all night, and the latter won all the money. For the truth of the rumor I cannot vouch.

At this stage of the proceedings it was announced by the President, that there was a young gentleman present from Chicago who would explain to the crowd the means by which the mob was gotten up at that place. Mr. Cameron stepped forward with an embarrassed air, and spoke as follows:

"I felt humiliated at the statement which has just been made from this stand, that our noble Senator was mobbed in our city. The fusion party is strong in Chicago. Of the crowd which assembled to hear him, all except about 100 came to pay respectful attention. The abolition press had hired 100 bullies at a cost of $300, to disturb the meeting. This I can prove. No respectable man cried out against him—we are all for him."

At this juncture [illegible] old and somewhat inebriated man rose [illegible] stand and stated that he too was present at the Chicago mob. The lead[illegible]ed to expect from him a denial of Mr. Cameron's statement and cried "down, down." The first sentence out, however, and this impression was dissipated. "I know," said he, that among the respectable citizens of Chicago, Judge D.'s friends are to his enemies as four to one."

"I never saw the Judge before, and never hoped to have seen him, and now that my eyes have seen him, I must exclaim with Simeon of old, Lord, letest now thy servant depart in peace, for mine eyes have seen Judge Douglas."

☞ The St. Paul (Min.) Democrat, organ of Willis A. Gorman, Governor of the Territory, denies the truth of the story that has been published very extensively lately, that his excellency is either Indian agent, or in the habit of getting intoxicated. We very cheerfully publish the contradiction, as we did the report. The Democrat says:

Governor Gorman is thoroughly abstemious in his habits, and his temperance principles are well known and recognized in the community in which he dwells, and which has the best opportunity of becoming acquainted with them.

We can only add that Governor Gorman is not Indian Agent, but that another person who is literally a "great man" holds that important and responsible position.

Illinois Central Railroad.—W. P. Burrall, Esq., President of the above road, and Col. R. B. Mason, the Chief Engineer, arrived in this city Monday evening, on business connected with their road. Our citizens were glad to see them, and to note the prospect that this portion of their great work draws so rapidly toward completion.—Galena Advertiser.

Death of Warren Hill.

Warren Hill, Esq., a well known citizen of Detroit, died of Cholera yesterday morning, aged 81 years. Mr. Hill was a native of Vermont, and formerly resided in Burlington, where he was engaged in the lumber business. He came nearly twenty years ago to this city, where he has since lived. He was an upright man, and a most esteemed citizen, leaving behind him many attached friends. By industry and frugality he had accumulated a handsome fortune. His death was fearfully sudden. We greeted him in perfect health on Monday evening, and on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock he was a corpse.—Detroit Inquirer, of Wednesday.

Extraordinary Affair.

Our neighboring village of Woodbridge was the scene of a most extraordinary occurrence on Sunday last, and as a variety of stories in regard to it are afloat, we have taken some pains to get the truth of the matter.

It seems that a young man nhmed Hogan, whose parents are Catholics, and who reside at the Short Hills, had been for some time an attendant at the Methodist Church of the Rev. Mr. Graves, at Woodbridge, and Sunday was to be received into the Church.

On Saturday, a message was received by his parents, that if the son did not appear at the Catholic Church in Rahway, and make recantation, his death would be the consequence. In the course of the night quite a number of Irishmen collected around the house, and the young man fearing some violence, slipped away unperceived, and walked to Woodbridge. He expressed a willingness to leave the place, as he feared he should get his friends into trouble; but he was told the law would afford ample protection to all.

At the opening of morning service a number of Irishmen collected around the door, and the father of the young man attempted, forcibly, to prevent his entrance, but the effort was unsuccessful. In the afternoon a still larger crowd assembled, and the father and mother of the young man, backed by their friends, attempted to drag him off by main force. At this juncture a magistrate, Mr. Jackson, interfered and ordered a release, which was quietly but promptly done.

Threats were made of further violence in the evening, and a request for assistance was sent to Rahway, in order that any rioters making their appearance from here might be identified for arrest. The appearance of a strong force from here, who were understood to be prepared for any emergency, with the arrangements made there by the magistrate, had the desired effect, and no further disturbance occurred. We need make no comments.—Rahway (N. J.) Advocate.

From the Buffalo Republic, Sept. 9.

Mysterious disappearance—Probable Murder.

On Tuesday last, Mr. Erasmus Adams and his brother Luther, left Aurora in this county, and came to Buffalo for the purpose of taking passage in the steamer of that evening for Chicago. They engaged passage and then left the boat to procure supper—passing up Commercial street, they stopped at a hotel kept by W. Baker, where they got supper. While at this house Luther made the acquaintance of a man, who, upon inquiry, proved to be a blackleg. This man asked Erasmus Adams to change a ten dollar bill for him. Mr. A. declined because it was inconvenient.—The three took supper together. When they came to settle, the stranger asked Luther Adams to pay for his supper, as he had nothing smaller than a ten dollar bill—he was going on the same boat and would pay him back the amount when he could make change. Luther paid for himself and the stranger. As they seemed to be engaged and not quite ready, Erasmus said to his brother "I will go and look for the baggage and be ready." When he had attended to it, he returned to the hotel for his brother, but he was not there. On inquiry, he was informed that his brother had gone out with the stranger. Supposing they had gone to the boat he hastened back. On going on board he saw the stranger, and inquired for his brother. The stranger said: "O, he is up stairs," meaning that he was in the upper cabin, they being near the Captain's office on the first floor. This reply put him off his guard, and he rested easy thinking all was right, continuing in conversation with the stranger until near the moment of starting.

As soon as the steamer left the dock, he commenced a search for Luther, which continued for full half an hour, or until he was satisfied that neither his brother or the stranger was on board. He became suspicious that there was something wrong. He was, however, obliged to continue on his journey, as the boat did not stop until it reached Detroit. Anxious to solve the mystery, he took the very first steamer to return to Buffalo. Arriving here, he set about making search for his brother as well as to find out the stranger. Nothing, however, can be found of either and the affair remains a mystery. The worst apprehensions are entertained for his safety. Being a very steady and sober man, he could not have been dragged by liquor during the time he was eating. The stranger, who is known to be a consummate blackleg, may have contrived to use chloroform, and by that means got him into the water, or some other out of the way place. Those who know Mr. Adams, are positive in the opinion that foul play has been used, and if ever found out it will be under such circumstances as will be proof positive that he has been murdered. Mr. A. resides in Aurora, where he leaves a family, and had only about $100 on his person.

M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS.

☞ A singular combination, but very effectual, as the following will show: New York, Nov. 20, 1852.

Knowing, from experience, the valuable qualities of DR. M'LANE'S VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS, I have for some time back considered it my duty, and made it my business, to make those articles known wherever I went among my friends. A short time ago, I became acquainted with the case of a young girl, who seemed to be troubled with worms and liver complaint at the same time, and had been suffering for some two months. Through my persuasion she purchased a bottle of Dr. M'LANE'S VERMIFUGE, and one box of LIVER PILLS, which she took according to directions. The result was she passed a large quantity of worms, and thinks that one box more of the Pills will restore her to perfect health. Her name and residence can be learned by calling on E. L. Theall, Druggist, corner of Rutger and Monroe streets.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, and take none else. All other Vermifuges, in comparison, are worthless.

Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge, also his Celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States and Canada. sel

WHIG CONVENTION—SECOND CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

The Whigs of the Second Congressional District are requested to meet by counties, at such times and places as may be most convenient to them respectively, and appoint delegates to a District Convention to be held at Aurora on Wednesday the 20th day of September next, for the purpose, upon consultation, of taking such measures in regard to the nomination of a candidate for Congress in the District as will best secure the strength of the party in a united effort with other friends of Freedom, in opposition to the aggressions and extension of slavery.

The ratio of apportionment will be based upon the census of 1850, allowing one delegate for each county, in addition to one for every three thousand inhabitants and one for each fraction over two thousand.

Another New Hotel.

We were shown yesterday the plans for a new Hotel, to be named the "La Flamboise House." It is to be built on the East side of State street, running south from Washington street 60 feet, with a depth of 90 feet. The building is to be constructed by H. O. Stone, at a cost of about $50,000. The architect is Mr. H. W. Boyington, on Dearborn street. Nearly $3000 worth of stone work is already wrought, and it is designed to have the basement and first story built during this Fall. The new Hotel will be named in remembrance of an old French Indian chief, whose former hunting grounds are now occupied by the busy residents of our thriving city. Including the basement, the building will be seven stories in height, and will contain about 100 sleeping rooms. The principal dining room is to be 23 1-2 by 70 feet, which will afford space enough for the seating of quite a crowd of persons. The structure is to be of the Italian style of architecture; and if it makes as fine an appearance as the design represents, it will be an ornament to the street as well as to the entire city. The base, and first story are to be of the beautiful white stone from Athens, and the upper stories will be faced with Milwaukee brick, or covered with mastic. All of the window caps are to be of cut stone, and the building is to be surmounted with a fine cupola. The second story will be supplied with bath rooms, for the accommodation of the guests. The contracts for the carpenter and mason work are not yet let, neither is it definitely known when the Hotel will be ready in every department for the accommodation of travellers.

When the Dearborn House and "La Flamboise" are completed, they will aid in a marked degree to accommodate the crowds of strangers who naturally will visit our city in days to come. The reputation of our city has suffered in times past for the want of sufficient Hotel room. We hope in another year that visitors to Chicago will have no just cause to complain in that respect.

For Freedom.

Twenty fugitives from Slavery left this city on Wednesday evening, by the Under Ground Railroad, for Canada and Freedom. The stock of that corporation is rapidly rising in this market.

Marine.

Among the arrivals at the port of Buffalo on the 12th, were the following from Chicago—propeller Mayflower; schooners L. Robinson, Twin Sisters, and Curlew.

The Slave Catchers.—George and John Buchanan, and Wm. M. Grant, the three men who were apprehended for an attempt to arrest, in this city on Sunday noon last, a fugitive slave from St. Louis, named Turner, and who have been having during this week a preliminary examination before Justice D'Wolf, were yesterday afternoon bound over in the joint sum of $2,400, for their appearance at trial. The examination was on a charge of assault with deadly weapons, with intent to inflict personal injury. It is probable that charges for kidnapping and riot will yet be brought against them.

Theatre.—Mrs C. Barton Hill, made her first appearance here, on Wednesday night, in the character of "Marie, in the Child of the Regiment." We saw her through one act of the piece, and were decidedly pleased with her. She is very handsome, and has an excellent enunciation. She is somewhat celebrated in the West as a singer. Her voice is a mezzo-soprano one, of very considerable sweetness and power. She has been a member of Madame Anna Bishop's Opera Troupe. She played an engagement at Burton's Theatre, New York, last season, where she made a hit as Ariel in "the Tempest," and has been lately playing, with considerable success, in Buffalo. Her husband is playing with her, but we have not yet had the opportunity of seeing him on the stage. The houses which they draw are very excellent, and they deserve and will receive cordial and liberal support. They appear to-night in "The Artist's Wife," and "the Day after the Wedding."

Canal Break Repaired.—Boats arrived here yesterday from La Salle, and report that the break is fully repaired, and that the Canal is in good navigable order.

PATENT MOSQUITO BAR.

NOW ON SALE, —BY— BEECHER, HOLLISTER & WILKINS, 135 AND 137 LAKE STREET, CARGILL'S Celebrated Patent Portable MOSQUITO NET, the only complete thing of its kind ever offered to the citizens of Chicago. Its qualities are told in the few simple facts which follow, namely: it is Cheap, Portable, Ornamental, and defies all the malicious attempts of the Mosquito.

In New York City during last summer, the sale of this excellent protector of rest far exceeded the sanguine expectations of the patentee, and the lovers of sound sleep still appreciate the desideratum supplied by Valentine Cargill.

In addition to its many qualities, it may be well to state that it is suitable to any kind of Bedstead, and can be put up, or taken down, in a few minutes, packed into a space not more than one foot; so that the travelling community are quite as well provided for as residents.

TREMENDOUS SUCCESS OF McLEAN'S VOLCANIC OIL LINIMENT.

Twenty-one thousand six hundred bottles sold in one month in St. Louis.—This valuable Liniment has been only twenty months before the public, yet it has gained for itself an enormous popularity by its own intrinsic merits, for where it is applied Pains, Swellings or Sores cannot exist.

McLean's Celebrated Liniment will cure Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Weakness in the Joints, Muscles, or Ligaments, Bruises, Sprains, Toothache, Earache, or any pain. It will remove any Swelling, Tumor, Piles, Caked Breasts, Sore Nipples, &c., and it will cleanse, purify, and heal the foulest Ulcer, Sores on the Legs or Shins, Burns, Scalds, Fresh Cuts, or any wound, no difference how long it may have existed.

Every family should keep it on hand to be used in time of need. One application will draw out the poison of musquitoes, stings of wasps, or any other poisonous insect.

For Horses or Other Animals.—McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment is the only reliable remedy for the Poll Evil, Big Head, Spavin, Sweeny, Old Sores, Chafes, Sore Shoulders, Cuts, Sprains, Lameness, Scratches, Wounds, &c. Apply it as directed, and a cure is certain in every instance.

ANOTHER SPEEDY CURE.

Having experienced the speedy effects of this new remedy, called McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment, I wish to give it publicity, that all who may be similarly afflicted shall try it, for it is a true remedy and the Sufferer's Friend.

A short time since, by a sudden jerk of the horse, I was thrown off my dray, the wheel passed over my legs, which bruised them severely, so much so, that I had to be carried home. Having heard of some very remarkable cures by the use of McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment, I sent for a bottle and applied it, and, astonishing to say, the following morning I could walk across the room, and a few more applications cured me entirely. I have used it on horses for chafes and sores, and it always produced a speedy and permanent cure. CHARLES McCANN, Residence between Eighth and Ninth, on Market st.

NO MERCURY. PROFESSOR THOMSON'S DISPENSARY. 239 Lake Street, Up Stairs.

ESTABLISHED for the suppression of Quackery and for the alleviation of human suffering, by offering to the unfortunate afflicted with private diseases a sure and safe method of cure, founded on the solid basis of science and sound philosophy. For more than 350 years mercury has been considered the chief remedy in the treatment of these diseases and its injudicious administration has ruined the constitutions of millions of the inhabitants of both sexes. Dr. THOMSON commenced the study of medicine A. D. 1825, and subsequently was a pupil of Baron de Castino, the celebrated Italian Physician and Surgeon to Don Miguel, King of Portugal, in whose Hospital in the city of Lisbon, where the facilities in Clinical Medicine were unsurpassed, Dr. T. spent much time. The following testimonial of some of the most distinguished physicians of Portugal, can be seen at my office. (TRANSLATION.)

We, the undersigned, being intimately acquainted with the medical physician and surgeon, Dr. Wm. Thomson, do cheerfully concur in pronouncing him an honorable gentleman of very superior medical attainments, and second to none in the treatment of these horrible diseases, for the cure of which mercury has made such havoc—having been eye witnesses to his performing several cures on patients in the city of Lisbon, who were pronounced incurable by the most eminent members of the Medical Faculty of the city of Oporto, from whence they were brought.

The medical compounds used in the cure of these hopeless and miserable wretches, were entirely vegetable, and discovered and only known by Dr. T.

(Signed at the city of Lisbon, May 12, 1833.)

BARON DE CASTINO, Prof. Surgery and Surgical Anatomy.
ANTONIO GARCIO, Prosector to Baron de Castino.
E. CETANO, Prof. of Materia Medica and Therapeutics.
MARTIN CAVALHO, Prof. Obstetrics and Clinical Midwifery.
PETER HERNANDEZ, Prof. of Chemistry and Physiology.

I, DON MIGUEL, King of Portugal, do hereby certify that the above signatures are of men of sterling honor and integrity, and are not susceptible of bribery, and are all subjects of my Kingdom, with the exception of Baron de Castino. MIGUEL, God and Liberty.

Letters must be addressed to Dr. Thomson, Box 72, Chicago, Ill. Office, No. 239 Lake Street, Up Stairs, First door to the left.

Most Important Announcement! RETIREMENT OF PROFESSOR JAMES McCLINTOCK, M. D., FROM THE PHILADELPHIA MEDICAL COLLEGE.

The undersigned have the pleasure of informing the public that they have made arrangements with the eminent Professor James McClintock, M. Their faith and effect are known and approved of by hundreds of regular physicians who have been his students, and seen the beneficial results in Dr. McClintock's own hands, while they were under his tuition, in the Colleges of Philadelphia, Castleton, Pittsfield and elsewhere.

The Philadelphia Sun says "Eminently successful in his private practice, [illegible]
